SECTION ONE

1.1 WELCOME

NCI University & Theological Seminary

We live in cultures that foster indecision. In spite of our rapid advances in technology and the ability travel into space, the westernized nations of the human race find themselves in a perpetual quandary over knowing how to act upon the "the right thing to do" in any given circumstance. It seems that our global world of instant technology facilitates our attempts to play God and become prosecutor, judge and jury in the affairs of life as we know it.

Every public decision seems to be challenged, and every consequence is second-guessed by someone, all clamoring for attention in our "self-centered" world of "My Kingdom."

Yet, this is not how God has called us to live. In fact, the scriptures teach that God is going to return at some unexpected hour, and He is expecting that His Son, the Lord Jesus Christ will find a company of people ready for His coming, just as a bride adorns herself in readiness for her bridegroom.

How easy it is to read such statements in scripture, but the challenge is to live our lives as though we really believed the truth of God's unchanging and irrevocable written Word.

NCIU seeks to train and equip men and women everywhere with a relevant and culturally appropriate biblical education and training to embrace what Scripture teaches for successful living.

Our specialty is the field of religious distance education, especially graduate level degree study programs to "polish the fine cutting edge" of those who see themselves as accepting the call to ministry by God.

"Learning without doing merely increases your knowledge level. However, learning that requires doing facilitates the verification of the knowledge you have gained and helps you translate it into experience so that it can more easily be replicated and passed on to others through transparent disciple making relationships, who can pass it on to others also."

We invite you to join with us in the divinely given task of making mature believers out of all those who hunger and thirst for the truth [Col 1:28].

The Board and Faculty of NCI University & Theological Seminary.

1.2 About Us

INTRODUCTION

NCIU sees the training and equipping of all followers of Christ as an essential component of learning to be fully functioning “believer-priest-kings” who are commissioned, trained and equipped, to extend the Kingdom of God in the whole earth through the Abrahamic blessing.

The continuing vision that drives New Covenant International University & Theological Seminary is threefold -

- Teaching and Education
- Training and Equipping
- Empowering and Strengthening

We accomplish these objectives through three primary means -

- The Provision of Foundational Teaching Courses and Curriculum for use within a local church or wherever faith happens and believers gather, so that every member can find their function and fulfillment within the Kingdom of God.
- The provision of Guided, Self-learning Courses and Programs that allow front-line practitioners of Christian ministry and missions as adult learners to achieve their religious academic dreams and advance professionally, while balancing personal lives and careers with a rigorous and beneficial education experience.
- The Provision of a Global Network Connecting People, Projects and Resources so that they are able to facilitate the extending of His Kingdom throughout the whole earth.

NCI University and Theological Seminary [NCIU] is a distance-learning Christian university and theological seminary that seeks to meet some of the educational needs of today’s diverse, global body of believers through the religious study programs offered in this catalog.

HISTORY & BIBLICAL FOCUS

In the early 1990’s, NCIU was legally incorporated in the United States as a U.S IRS approved 501(c) (3) tax-exempt non-profit organization. The founding directors chose to be established under the apostolic oversight of a local assembly of Christian believers at Lake Worth, Florida, as well as other ministry leaders from the broader Body of Christ. NCI has continued in these mutually beneficial relationships, and is still located at the same campus facility where it began its present ministry.

NCIU is a “user-focused” institution that exists to serve the needs of the end-users, not simply to perpetuate knowledge for the sake of knowledge. Our chief end is to glorify God and Him alone in all that we do.

It is widely known that many fully engaged leaders and adults with careers, families and community involvement, all with busy lives, often desire to further their education and be better equipped for their chosen task of Christian service, regardless of their vocation or location. To these people, NCI University & Theological Seminary offers an enriching learning experience that allows them to fit much needed education into their lives, rather than forcing them to fit their lives into education.

NCIU acknowledges that the local body of Christian believers and its community of members remain the primary place for planting and nurturing of biblical, foundational truth and meaningful spiritual experiences through what is termed “the Disciple-making Process.”

The “Disciple-making Process,” which is God’s prime weapon for extending His ever- increasing, unshakable kingdom throughout the nations and people groups of the entire earth, may take place within recognized structures or spontaneous, organic groups in the marketplace and beyond. The new life of faith needs to grow where it happens! The necessity of this pivotal practice is underscored by NCIU in the development and provision of appropriate foundation and disciple-making materials, such as are found in the Resources section on our website.

In the technology-driven twenty first century, with the worldwide Internet providing adult learners with a more convenient global-focused education, this process is a basic task. This ‘convenience factor’ also provides the global vehicle for faculty and students to be able to jointly engage in a genuine educational, intellectually challenging and spiritually enriching experience.

It is because of this commitment to maintaining this academic standard and practical spiritual development that NCIU is able to provide culturally relevant and meaningful distance-learning, higher education programs, establishing it among the more innovative Christian institutions of higher learning.

NCIU also works alongside a number of campus-based Christian education providers on the five main continents and gives special recognition to their validated programs as equal components of the total learning requirements to receive specified, academic awards for religious, vocational purposes.

1.3 NCIU's 5 Core Values

- NCIU offers non-traditional opportunities to the Christian Church worldwide for continuing education, as well as distance-learning degree programs that train and equip those seeking spiritual knowledge and enrichment.
- Believers are called to be God's co-laborers in God's ongoing work in our broken world (1 Cor. 3:5-9), as we anticipate the return of the Lord. Wherever or however we serve, we are to be incarnational agents bringing change, restoration and transformation for the glory of God and the benefit of humanity.
- Through the culturally appropriate and relevant study programs we seek to instill in our students the habit of doing academic work with excellence that brings glory to God and the extension of His Kingdom.
- The primary goals of our distance learning programs are continuing faithfulness to Christ and the Gospel of His Kingdom, a willing voluntary submission to biblical authority, and the daily application and out-working of Christian doctrine as a guide to ethical living.
- Habits of learning must be sustained throughout life for individual growth and for effective service in a changing world. These habits of learning characterize the NCIU community of learners — faculty, staff, students and graduates.

1.4 NCIU's Mission, Vision and Culture

NCIU's Mission Defines Our Purpose.

NCI University & Theological Seminary uses distance-learning methodologies to provide front-line Christian adult learners throughout the world with educational opportunities for higher education in their ministry equipping.

NCIU also recognizes that for many reasons such people are not always able to go to a campus-based institution for this training. We have therefore designed their distance-learning courses in recognized religious, academic and vocational award disciplines that will enable these people to acquire the knowledge and skills needed for effective ministry functions in this twenty first century, globalized society.

NCIU believes that Christian workers should be able to further their desired education to achieve personal and career goals in service to Christ and their local community in a culturally appropriate manner. NCIU also recognizes that among the challenges for higher Christian education in today's globalized village and economy, we must provide opportunities to learn and to earn distance education degrees in accessible formats that are affordable to diversified communities and economies. This understanding is reflected in our fees, tuition and financial cost structures.

NCIU's Vision for Culturally Appropriate Higher Education

NCIU is a US tax-exempt non-profit corporation that constantly seeks financial donors to contribute funds that will grant tuition sponsorship for needy students, as well as becoming involved with students and their ministry endeavors beyond the NCIU program. Please click the DONATE button on the HOME PAGE to find out more.

Recognizing that biblical revelation for effective Christian life is progressive, NCIU must continually strive for ongoing improvements in our educational offerings, as we recognize the changing needs and focus in our changing world. NCIU also believes and reaffirms our need as an organization to hold ourselves accountable to the standards and oversight required by professional quality assurance organizations and peer-level review.

Above all, NCIU seeks to know the mind of Christ in our role as equippers and trainers. We remain open to the Spirit of Prophecy and Revelation as our ultimate guide, and the written Word of God as our authority in matters pertaining to faith and conduct.

NCIU's Cultural Understanding Reflects Our Mission and Vision

NCIU's mission and vision are reflected in the day-to-day operations of the University and Theological Seminary as part of our own internal culture. We endeavor to focus on the needs of our students in all that we do. We continually seek to make improvements to the quality of our curricula. This is reflected in our unique approach to distance-learning programs in order to achieve creditable academic awards.

Whenever possible, we use student feedback and evaluation as well as end-user reports, as part of this continuing review process, to ensure we hear from those who seek to apply the knowledge gained through our programs.

We are always seeking to engage the support and interaction of appropriate Adjunct- Professors and Tutors, who will become new Faculty Mentors. Such special teachers and spiritual guides are among those who also strive personally to be life-long learners in their chosen professions, and who invest of themselves in learning and using best practices. Our graduates are ordinary men and women of faith. Through diligent application, persistence and appropriate mentoring they have become successful students who are achieving their hopes and dreams. Such successful “heroes of faith” are the ultimate testimony to NCI University & Theological Seminary’s continuing success. We are privileged to be a part of that living story. Together we can reach the unreached nations of the earth and let the Light of the Good News of the Kingdom of God shine upon those who have never heard.

We invite you to sign on and become part of the continuing story. Let us help you fulfill your dreams and goals in further training and equipping for service in Christ’s Kingdom.

1.5 NCIU’s Philosophy of Education

There Are Five Essential Aspects of NCIU's Philosophy of Education

1. Worldwide, Internet-based Distance Learning

The worldwide Internet is one of the modern technologies that are transforming all forms of communication, education and commerce, as well as every other area of society. Internet-based distance learning occurs when the student and teacher are not in the same location, and therefore depend on the Worldwide Web to facilitate communication and connection.

Today’s global village gives us the unique advantage of the worldwide web, so that regardless of the international time zone we live in, we can download our study materials and explore the exciting journey of being well-trained ministry. This is what is known as an “asynchronous process” – meaning, the student can learn without externally imposed set times for classes. It allows you, as the student, to complete your studies within mutually agreed timeframes, without having to leave your home or place of ministry service.

2. Personalized Self-Learning

Successful learning is an individual process that demands desire, passion, diligent application and an understanding teacher who is able to help us bring forth our best abilities.

Because God made each of us as unique, individual persons, NCIU also recognizes that all students have different personal needs and therefore different styles of gaining knowledge to facilitate successful learning.

Proverbs 23:23 says “Truth, wisdom, learning, and good sense - these are worth paying for, but too valuable for you to sell”.

The personalized information supplied by the student enables use of unique

"vocational task specific" personalized, textual study units, internships and field projects. These are designed in consultation with an NCIU approved mentor in the preparation of the initial learning contract. This customized choice system used by NCIU in the teaching programs enables the student to "specialize" in the desired areas of learning. This feature, coupled with culturally relevant understanding and mentoring from the experienced Adjunct-Professor/Tutor, assures the student that the best processes for spiritual formation are being employed.

In our "Global Village," the world becomes our classroom and therefore the required, academic process does not always take place in a large lecture hall or even around a seminar table.

3. One-on-One Faculty Support Mentoring

For most students their classroom is some recognized space within their home, wherever that may be, and hopefully connected to the outside world via a computer and reliable Internet access, as well as their bible and specific text books, study guides etc.

The most desirable teaching objective at NCIU is a one-on-one process, which we call "Faculty Supportive Mentoring." We recognize that we are all brothers and sisters on the same journey and those who are a few steps ahead of others have a responsibility to share their journey's experiences with those following, who desire to learn and grow too.

In addition to possessing professional credentials, our NCIU Adjunct-Professors and Tutors are not only passionate, seasoned practitioners but are also skilled in recognizing individual learning styles and needs. They are well equipped and trained as tutors in distance-learning teaching, making them perfect educators for online universities such as NCI University & Theological Seminary.

4. Institutional Support Network

Our goal is to be able to provide the resources that help students to succeed. Our staff is responsive and our faculty members are competent, knowledgeable Professors, Adjunct- tutors and Administrators.

We have designed our internal communication systems and support systems to give assistance where needed, but of course like yourself, we are only human and we are all dependent upon our Heavenly Father for daily grace in His service. We know from experience that in spite of our best efforts and resources, modern technological systems are not infallible and sometimes let us down. We also know that we too, like all mankind, sometimes fail and need to call upon the grace of God to do our service for His Kingdom under difficult circumstances. We trust you will be patient with our staff should this occur and praise God for His continued goodness regardless.

Through our global network we are able to provide you with the doorway to an outstanding, Internet-based, online library and this, coupled with appropriate guidance for innovative and comprehensive writing, will enable you to achieve meaningful academic goals in both research and practice.

5. Education Program Design and Structure

Genuine, balanced education is both the process of acquiring significant learning knowledge and of acquiring experiences that will produce the desired change in personality, character, behavior and vocational skills. Mankind cannot achieve these goals fully without having a living, vital and intimate relationship with God Himself. Man must also rely upon God's written Word as the measuring standard for life and eternity itself.

NCI University & Theological Seminary sees the pathway of education as a guided and graded process that presupposes the three essential elements of teacher, learner and an enabling environment in which genuine balanced learning may successfully take place. This guided, graded and ongoing process must be constructed to assist the student in making the learning experiences his own, enabling him to develop holistically as a mature person. This is accomplished through a continuing learning experience of acquiring what the learner ultimately needs, to become an individual who is capable of achieving his or her full potential for God while passing through this present life.

Balanced education that aligns itself with biblical principles will also equip the learner to pass on what they have learned to others.

ACHIEVING THE OBJECTIVES

As co-laborers with God in the process, NCIU provides the facilities and educational learning process for the student to:

- Inform the mind (gain relevant head knowledge)
- Activate the heart (personal, Christian development) and,
- Empower the hands (enable vocational skills and abilities).

Our goal at NCIU is not just to inform the mind, but also to bring genuine transformation to the whole person and consequently the society in which they live. NCIU seeks to achieve these objectives by providing "customized" or "tailored" learning pathways to facilitate individual students reaching desired religious, academic and vocational awards that include

- Sound Christian Teachers
- Diligent Learners
- Enabling Environment

Each degree program is designed to include vital learning modules and study units that are customized to each student's ministry focus through sound scriptural scholarship; balanced spiritual formation; mission-specific knowledge focus; and practical ministry application and development.

1.6 NCIU's People

GOVERNANCE - BOARD of DIRECTORS

NCI University and Theological Seminary functions with two realms of responsibility

1 – Board of Directors

2 – Academic Faculty

Board of Directors

President: Prof. Dr. Robert Abramson

Vice-President: Prof. Dr. Chester Clarke

Secretary & Registrar: Prof. Dr. Jörg Strate

Chief Academic Officer: Prof. Dr. Andreas Franz

Chief Financial Officer: Russell A. Naisbitt (M.Phil.)

Certification Officer: Rev. James Watts (M.A.)

Director of Vision & Strategy: Dr. Keith Pettus

All of the Board members enjoy a fruitful relationship with each other. Each board member is currently active in pastoral, missions, theological and/or general educational ministry spanning five continents.

The Board members seek to bring to the university a breadth of experience that embraces the pivotal areas of training and equipping to meet the needs encountered by the global student body. This is of invaluable benefit in the advising of educational development and training for the student needs.

All board members serve in functional ministry roles to facilitate the expansion of the Kingdom of God. This varies, whether it is through service to a local church, educational institution, or a marketplace ministry that is affecting the development and spiritual formation of those who seek after Christ. Their functional relationship as servants of Christ is reflected in the directions taken by the board and ministry organization as a whole.

Academic Faculty

NCIU functions as a global, distance-learning institution with a central administration center and staff. At NCI University & Theological Seminary, the global network of professors and adjunct-tutors do the actual tutorial and mentoring requirements.

The most desirable teaching objective at NCIU is the one-on-one process, which we call "Faculty Mentoring." This "faculty mentoring" feature enables NCIU academic staff to be located anywhere in the world, so long as they can adequately meet the needs of their individual students through electronic communications.

Almost all NCIU Faculty Mentors have appropriate graduate degrees, and those few who do not, have adequately distinguished themselves in their fields. In addition, our NCIU Adjunct-Professors and Tutors are not only passionate, seasoned practitioners, but are also skilled in recognizing individual learning styles and needs.

In light of the vast number of mentors, professors and tutors engaged in the training of NCIU students, here is a list of selected NCIU academics:

NCIU Founder and Professor Emeritus

Dr. Kevin Dyson, now retired, serves as Professor Emeritus. He founded our university and served as its president for decades. His faithfulness, selfless worldwide influence and guidance changed the lives of innumerable people around the world, who chose a life of service to God. We salute Drs. Kevin and Joy Dyson. We thank God for their example of Christ to all of us, through their unwavering dedication, leadership and life.

1.7 NCIU's Beliefs

Our Five Essential Principles of Educational Philosophy are based upon the Core Values that we embrace and seek to walk out in daily living as Ambassadors for Christ and His Kingdom. These are in turn under-girded by the belief-system to which we espouse and subscribe. NCIU as a Christ-centered institution requires all Board members, Faculty and Students to also embrace these beliefs.

The Board of Directors, Administrative staff, along with the faculty and the staff of the colleges are committed to a realistic interpretation and application of the Christian faith that fully preaches the inerrant Gospel of the Kingdom of God and His Son, Jesus Christ.

All members of the College Board and global faculty are active members of local communities of believers and are committed to walking out these same principles espoused corporately. NCI University and Theological Seminary is not a denominational institution (i.e. owned by a particular denomination of religious affiliation). It is a group of practicing Christian leaders and ministries seeking to live in relationships that transcend denominational boundaries, walking together in biblical unity. It is expected therefore, that our students will both understand and are committed to receiving an education in accordance with the following articles of faith:

We believe...

1. We believe in one God, Creator of all things, holy, infinitely perfect, and eternally existing in a loving unity of three equally divine Persons: the Father the Son and the Holy Spirit. Having limitless knowledge and sovereign power, God has graciously purposed from eternity to redeem a people for Himself, and to make all things new for His own glory.
2. We believe that God has spoken in the Scriptures, both Old and New Testaments, through the words of human authors. As the verbally inspired Word of God, the Bible is without error in the original writings, the complete revelation of His will for salvation, and the ultimate authority by which every realm of human knowledge and endeavor should be judged. Therefore, it is to be believed in all that it teaches, obeyed in all that it requires, and trusted in all that it promises.
3. We believe that God created Adam and Eve in His image, but they sinned when tempted by Satan. In union with Adam, human beings are sinners by nature and by choice, alienated from God, and under His wrath. Only through God's saving work in Jesus Christ can we be rescued, reconciled and renewed.

4. We believe that Jesus Christ is God incarnate, fully God and fully man, one Person in two natures. Jesus—Israel's promised Messiah—was conceived through the Holy Spirit and born of the Virgin Mary. He lived a sinless life, was crucified under Pontius Pilate, arose bodily from the dead, ascended into heaven and sits at the right hand of God the Father as our High Priest and Advocate.
5. We believe that Jesus Christ, as our representative and substitute, shed His blood on the cross as the perfect, all-sufficient sacrifice for our sins. His atoning death and victorious resurrection constitute the only ground for personal salvation.
6. We believe that the Holy Spirit, in all that He does, glorifies the Lord Jesus Christ. He convicts the world of its guilt. He regenerates sinners, and in Him, they are baptized into union with Christ and adopted as heirs in the family of God. He also indwells, illuminates, guides, equips and empowers believers for Christ-like living and service.
7. We believe that the true church comprises all who have been justified by God's grace through faith in Christ alone. They are united by the Holy Spirit in the body of Christ, of which He is the Head. The true church is manifest in local church assemblies, whose membership should be composed only of believers. The Lord Jesus mandated two ordinances of remembrance - baptism and the Lord's Supper, which visibly and tangibly express the gospel. Though they are not the means of salvation, when celebrated by the church in genuine faith and humble obedience, these ordinances confirm and nourish the believer as a child of God.
8. We believe that God's justifying grace must not be separated from His sanctifying power and purpose. God commands us to love Him supremely and others sacrificially, and to live out our faith with care for one another, compassion toward the poor and justice for the oppressed. With God's Word, the Spirit's power, and fervent prayer in Christ's name, we are to combat the spiritual forces of evil and destroy the works of the evil one. In obedience to Christ's commission, we are to make disciples among all people, always bearing witness to the gospel in word and deed by incarnational lifestyle.
9. We believe that the personal return of Christ, at a time known only to God, demands constant expectancy and, as our blessed hope, motivates the believer to godly living, sacrificial service and strategic mission.
10. We believe that God commands everyone everywhere to believe the gospel by turning to Him in repentance and receiving the Lord Jesus Christ as Savior, Master and Lord. We believe that God will raise the dead bodily and judge the world, assigning the unbeliever to condemnation and eternal conscious punishment and the believer to eternal blessedness and joy with the Lord in the new heaven and the new earth, to the praise of His glorious grace. Amen.

What we believe determines the values we embrace, which formulate the behavior we practice, thus creating the image that is seen.

Romans 8:28-29 gives us the most concise revelation of God's ultimate intention "for those whom He foreknew, predestined, called, justified, and glorified. His purpose is nothing less than that we become "conformed to the image of His First-born Son."

This process of growing conformity to Christ was conceived before the foundation of the world. It is being realized as a divine-human process in the present, and it will be fulfilled we stand in the presence of His glory, "Blameless with exceeding great joy" [Jude 24].

1.8 NCIU's Statement of Conduct

NCIU is a distance-learning education institution, and as such, does not support a physical traditional resident campus. It is, nonetheless, a faith-based institution of higher learning. Therefore, all NCIU enrolled students are expected to hold firmly to certain standards of conduct as part of the ethos of the college community.

NCIU seeks primarily to admit students who have already received salvation by faith in Jesus Christ alone, and desire to prepare themselves for a lifetime of effective Christian ministry. All students must be able to accept and agree with a clear conscience the Statement of Faith adhered to by NCIU.

The receipt of a signed student's registration (Letter of Acceptance) is regarded as an agreement to abide by the college's specific guidelines detailed in the student handbook in terms of the student's obligation to adhere to prescribed requirements of spiritual formation, and standards of academic diligence, integrity and truthfulness. NCIU recognizes that while such man-made regulations cannot improve an individual's standing with Christ, they can strengthen the life and testimony of both the student and the college he or she represents. At the core of those standards is the demonstration of the evidence of a Christian life both in the working world and marketplace, as well as within the Christian community to which the student belongs. We further show by our adherence to these standards our willingness to submit to God and to those appointed over us for the development of our character and spiritual formation, to become like Christ, as mature sons and daughters.

DEGREE AWARDS & CONCENTRATIONS OFFERED

As an institution committed to inerrant Scripture, given by God as our final authority for faith and life, we hold ourselves accountable to the Word of God and to each other with regard to these values as we “form students to transform the world through Christ.”

1. Christ centeredness. We are here to model and to engender Christ centeredness in all that we do. The Sovereign Lordship of Christ should affect and be evident in every aspect of education, relationship and endeavor at NCIU.
2. Comprehensive education. We are here to educate for the whole of life, beginning with the mind and including a comprehensive discipleship that results in a comprehensive witness. We seek to nurture students to become spiritually mature and biblically informed persons who make well-reasoned and wise intellectual and moral judgments, thereby equipping and motivating them to tackle real-world problems.
3. Community. We seek to be a learning community that operates by the ethics and values of the Kingdom of God. The makeup of the community should be a reflection of the breadth and diversity of the family of God. The way we treat people should be consistent with the morals, justice, compassion, humility and love of our Lord. Interaction with students should both reflect an attitude of service to them as individuals and take advantage of opportunities for mentoring and modeling and personal development.
4. Kingdom of God and Church connectedness. We value service to the Church because we believe that the Church is God’s primary vehicle to accomplish his work in the world. Our vision for serving Christ and His Kingdom is a global vision, just as God’s vision for His Kingdom and Church is also global. A particular value affecting NCIU’s work is commitment to identify and meet the educational needs of the churches and parachurch organizations that have committed themselves to extending the Kingdom of God throughout the world, with special focus on the missional church.
5. Cultural engagement. We seek to bring faith, life and learning to bear on the issues facing our world. Our perspective is one of engagement with culture from a Christ-centered and biblically rooted foundation. We are committed to high standards of research, scholarship, thinking and living as a means of preparing students to engage the world and to respond honestly and earnestly to those in a pluralistic society.

Accordingly, the Board of Directors and Faculty of NCI University & Theological Seminary have structured the following distance-learning degree programs to facilitate the implantation of these values both in students and relating church communities around the globe.

Note 1: NCIU will supply upon request full details of each degree program offered. Normally these details are made available to inquiring students when they show some seriousness about making an application.

Note 2: NCIU requires that all Arts, Sciences and Philosophy degree comprise 25% of general education subjects.

Note 3: Students, who are eligible to be admitted to postgraduate studies although they do not have undergraduate level theological training, are required to successfully complete a Postgraduate Induction Program before they can start their 56 credit postgraduate study program. This Postgraduate Induction Program consists of culture-specific 3 credit modules from Systematic Theology, Historical Theology, Biblical Theology, Practical Theology, Missiology (Intercultural Studies) plus a Practical Project, totaling 18 credits.

Note 4: The dissertation at Master level is worth 16 credits.

Note 5: The credits indicated below are minimum requirements.

Note 6: NCIU recognizes that not all students striving towards a Bachelor's degree might be in a position to bring it to fruition. NCIU therefore offers three types of diplomas for students who have completed Bachelor level modules whilst satisfying all academic requirements and financial obligations. Bachelor degree fees apply.

Note 7: At the end of each completed module, students are required to return a filled in feedback form to the tutor.

The five (5) Study Concentrations offered are:

- Biblical Studies and Theology
- Missions and Intercultural Studies
- Christian Ministry
- Religious Education
- Christian Pastoral Counseling

NCIU'S FOCUS FOR BIBLICAL STUDIES AND THEOLOGY PROGRAMS

BIBLICAL STUDIES

The Biblical Studies concentration offers a general program in biblical studies based on the English text with special emphasis upon the literature, interpretation and themes of the whole Bible. The program helps the student to explore the biblical text within both its historic contexts and its use in modern worldwide contexts.

The program is primarily designed as a terminal degree for students who do not expect to continue formal academic studies to the upper graduate level. Accordingly, knowledge, translation skills and use of the biblical languages are not required.

THEOLOGICAL STUDIES

In this concentration, students are trained in basic, biblical and theological knowledge. They are also encouraged to develop skills that enable them to take into account the original linguistic, literary, historical and cultural contexts of the Bible. Students are thereby enabled to critically consider varied religious traditions, beliefs and practice in our present world societies.

The ultimate goal of our Theological Studies concentration is to ensure that the individual's life and the corporate Christian body are faithful to God's revelation of Himself in Scripture.

Therefore, students with sound theological training will know how to evaluate critically their own personal theological leaning, be aware and respectful of other theological positions and be able to distinguish those values that are distinctly Christian from those that the secular world espouses.

OVERVIEW – BIBLICAL & THEOLOGICAL STUDIESBACHELOR OF ARTS IN BIBLICAL AND THEOLOGICAL STUDIES

The NCIU Bachelor of Arts in Bible & Theology is a distance-learning degree program designed in response to the expressed needs of pastors, workers and emerging leaders. The course is specifically for church workers, missionaries, intending missionaries, church planters and church leadership associates wanting to further equip themselves for the changing global environment of the twenty first century.

This degree program exposes students to a wide range of new possibilities for church ministry, pastoral leadership and missiological endeavors. These strategic studies will empower them to meet the challenge of contextualizing the gospel in an increasingly urbanized, international and highly “wired” techno-savvy global community.

In addition, this NCIU Bachelor’s course has built in the option of special focus electives. This will enable practitioners to pursue carefully focused coursework in areas such as Church Ministry, Christian Education, and Pastoral Counseling or Missiological study.

BACHELOR OF THEOLOGY

The purpose of the NCIU Bachelor of Theology distance-learning degree program is to help students who are planning to invest their lives in church or mission vocations to achieve the desired level of knowledge through biblical and theological studies.

The Bachelor of Theology program requires the ability to use the principles of biblical interpretation to identify and evaluate basic elements of theological thought through systematic analysis of statements of truth, theologies and doctrines of the Christian faith. This degree program exposes students to a wide range of new possibilities for church ministry and pastoral teaching, pastoral leadership and missiological endeavors. These strategic studies will empower them to meet the challenge of contextualizing the gospel in an increasingly urbanized, international and highly “wired” techno-savvy global community. In addition, this Bachelor’s course will enable practitioners to pursue carefully focused coursework in areas such as church ministry, pastoral leadership or missiological study. The course will culminate in a research-based writing project that draws upon the praxis objectives undertaken.

MASTER OF ARTS IN BIBLICAL AND THEOLOGICAL STUDIES

The MA (Bible & Theology) degree program has been specifically designed to provide an understanding of the Scriptures for students anticipating Christian ministry service. This includes such areas of ministry service as church administrators, parachurch organization leadership, counselors, bi-vocational leaders and ministries, “tent-making” occupations in other cultures, non-professional religious leaders in the local church and others.

The concentrations in the Biblical and Theological Studies graduate program stress the concepts, principles, history and methods of the theological disciplines.

The program provides a scholarly, helpful and understanding atmosphere in which students confront both traditional and contemporary interpretations and issues. It is committed to helping students formulate and articulate a biblical and global understanding of life and ministry in a setting committed to traditional biblical Christianity.

MASTER OF THEOLOGY

The distance-learning Master of Theology degree, provided by NCI University & Theological Seminary, has been designed to provide emphases in Biblical Understanding and Exegesis, Old and New Testament Studies, Systematic Theology, Philosophy of Religion and Ethics, Spiritual Formation and Biblical Ministry Development.

The mission of the Master of Theology program of NCI University & Theological Seminary is the development of disciples of Jesus Christ who will be able to teach their respective disciplines.

This program has been developed specifically for those believers whose calling to Christian service is to serve in positions of leadership for which the Master of Theology or other similar professional degrees are normally required.

As an outgrowth of NCIU’s role to provide discerning evangelical biblical/theological scholarship and instruction, the M.Th. program exists to provide opportunities for specialized focus on disciplines that are crucial to fulfill NCIU’s mission. We want to give students who choose one of these discipline areas a foundation upon which they can teach or go on for advanced study.

MASTER OF DIVINITY

The Master of Divinity program at NCI University & Theological Seminary is designed to provide a strong foundation in Biblical Studies and Theological understanding.

The course of study will broaden the historical perspective, deepen the theological reflection and develop the professional skill of both pastoral and mission leaders to a high degree of competence and excellence. At the same time it will prepare them to take major roles in leadership development and strategic expansion of the Kingdom of God in their chosen sphere of service.

Students in the program are expected to develop an advanced understanding of the nature and purposes of ministry, to show enhanced competencies in pastoral analysis and ministerial skills, as well as the integration of these dimensions into the theologically reflective practice of ministry. They are also expected to gain new knowledge about the practice of ministry, and to demonstrate continued measurable growth in personal spiritual ministry.

DOCTOR OF THEOLOGY

The Doctor of Theology is designed to train scholars who can serve the church worldwide as teachers, researchers, pastors and leaders.

The program aims at fostering faithfulness to the teaching of Scripture in combination with creative and critical reflection on its significance for the church and contemporary culture.

Students may focus on Biblical Theology, Systematic/Historical Theology or Missiology. The nature of Scripture and of the theological task demand that theology is rooted in Scripture and that Scripture is interpreted theologically. The NCIU Th.D., therefore, requires that its students take a holistic approach to biblical, theological and missiological studies.

Students will be required to write dissertations that focus on one of the areas of academic specialization.

The entire program, including the dissertation, will require integration with the other specialties. In order to facilitate this integration, students in the NCIU Th.D. program will write dissertations that are distinctly theological in nature.

The program seeks, at the same time, to be integrative in other ways, by bringing to bear on the theological and missiological task insights from people and cultures outside the North American context, and thus affords the students room for exploration of specialized focus areas.

NCIU'S FOCUS ON MISSIONS & INTERCULTURAL STUDIES

MISSIOLOGY STUDIES

These concentrations on Missiology – the study of missionary work – draw together scholarship in biblical, historical, doctrinal and practical theological studies. It uses tools from the social sciences to understand various dynamics.

Missions are the practice of doing that which missiology identifies and explains. Extensive insights are drawn from cultural anthropology, ethnology, sociology, geography and political science.

Missiology seeks to develop strategies for effective missionary work and church planting. In doing their work missiologists interact with a wide range of professions, especially those of agriculture, education, medicine and public health.

NCIU does not offer a “stand-alone” Bachelor of Missions award. Students considering this discipline should enroll in B.A. (Bible & Theology) program instead, and choose the Intercultural Studies elective.

MISSIONS & INTERCULTURAL STUDIES AWARDS

Master award = B + credit hours
Master of Philosophy in Intercultural Studies / Missiology [B + 56crs]
Doctoral award = M + credit hours
Doctor of Philosophy in Intercultural Studies [M + 48crs]

OVERVIEW – MISSIONS & INTERCULTURAL STUDIES

UNDERGRADUATE STUDY PATHWAY

Unless students already have an earned undergraduate degree award or equivalent credits to meet the prerequisite entrance standards, it is recommended that students utilize the options provided in the Bachelor of Arts (Bible & Theology) degree program with appropriate concentration offered. Please discuss this with the Registrar when completing your degree application for further recommendation and advice.

MASTER OF PHILOSOPHY IN INTERCULTURAL STUDIES / MISSIOLOGY

The Master of Philosophy in Intercultural Studies / Missiology degree is designed for those students who desire advanced training for careers or ministries that require adjustment to living, working and communicating in another culture or in multicultural contexts.

Drawing upon insights from theology, sociology, anthropology, history and communication theory, students will be encouraged to analyze contemporary global concerns, to formulate Christian perspectives and to explore better solutions to apply to today's cross-cultural problems.

The program begins with a broad training in essential foundations of graduate level theology, biblical studies, intercultural studies and world religions so that students can interact with faculty.

This foundation provides the opportunity to gain further cross-cultural competency.

Students can choose between Master of Philosophy in Intercultural Studies or Master of Philosophy in Missiology as their degree title depending on what suits their ministry best.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN INTERCULTURAL STUDIES

The Doctor of Philosophy in Intercultural Studies program at NCI University & Theological Seminary is one of four academic research doctoral programs. It is a leadership and research doctorate in that its major purpose is the development of competent leaders in intercultural ministries who are extending the Kingdom of God throughout the nations of the earth.

The curriculum is designed to nurture sound scholarship, meaningful research and the symbiotic relationship of theory and practice that cross over cultural boundaries and people groups.

The NCIU Ph.D. in Intercultural Studies degree program is designed to enhance the understanding and practice of cross-cultural Christian ministry in the areas of church planting and missions, as well as for those currently engaged in positions of ministerial or missions leadership who need to develop their interpersonal and communication skills across cultural borders.

NCIU'S FOCUS ON CHRISTIAN MINISTRY

CHRISTIAN MINISTRY

The programs in this concentration have been designed for a variety of students in contemporary church and marketplace ministries.

Those with pastoral experience and those who are involved with ministry through Christian agencies will have the opportunity to strengthen the foundations of ministry and develop new skills. Some may wish to strengthen their volunteer ministry in their congregation. Others may want training to help them minister more effectively in the marketplace.

With its emphasis on practical and personal formation as well as its solid underpinning of biblical and theological studies, the degree programs give knowledge and skills for a continuing and deepening ministry.

The electives provide the opportunity for students to focus on areas of special interest such as disciple making and church planting. Students are encouraged to personalize the programs toward their particular ministry interests. The opportunity to complete a personalized focus area of interest will facilitate the desired blend of theory and practice in a student's coursework.

The faculty diligently seeks to develop reflective practitioners – those who are wise, compassionate servants of Christ and who are also academically grounded, spiritually whole and practically skilled.

CHRISTIAN MINISTRY AWARDS

Doctoral award = M + credit hours
--

Doctor of Ministry [M + 48crs]

OVERVIEW – CHRISTIAN MINISTRY STUDIES

UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE STUDY PATHWAY

NCIU does not currently offer a “stand-alone” Bachelor of Ministry or Master of Ministry award. Unless students already have an earned undergraduate degree award or equivalent credits to meet the prerequisite entrance standards, it is recommended that students utilize the options provided by NCIU.

Students are advised that the Bachelor of Arts (Bible & Theology) and Master of Arts (Bible & Theology) degree programs have provisions for inclusion of nominated concentrations to meet the vision focus of each student within the five major disciplines offered. Please discuss this with the Registrar when completing your degree application for further recommendation and advice.

DOCTOR OF MINISTRY

The Doctor of Ministry program at NCI University & Theological Seminary is designed to enhance the understanding and practice of Christian ministry in the areas of church ministry, church planting and missions for those currently engaged in positions of ministerial or missions leadership.

The course of study has been specifically designed to broaden the historical perspective, deepen the theological reflection and develop the professional skills of both pastoral and mission leaders to a high degree of competence and excellence. At the same time, it will prepare them to take major roles in leadership development and strategic expansion of the Kingdom of God in their chosen sphere of service.

NCIU'S FOCUS IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION PROGRAMS

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

NCIU's Master of Religious Education program is the professional, theological degree in Christian education and discipleship ministries and is well suited for individuals seeking a broad, foundational graduate degree in church and Christian education ministry.

This program is designed to equip men and women called by God to serve as professional Christian workers in capacities such as associate pastor, discipleship pastor, as well as other positions that require a general knowledge of Christian education programs and discipleship ministries.

These concentrations in Christian Education are designed to prepare students for a vocation of nurture, spiritual formation and life-span discipleship as well as Christian, educational ministry development. The programs embrace both parish, institutional and cross-cultural ministry settings. Graduating students will be equipped to provide leadership for educational ministries that effectively seek to present everyone mature in Christ.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION AWARDS

Doctoral award = M + credit hours
Doctor of Religious Education [M + 48crs]

OVERVIEW – RELIGIOUS EDUCATION STUDIES

UNDERGRADUATE AND GRADUATE STUDY PATHWAY

NCIU does not currently offer a "stand-alone" Bachelor of Religious Education or Master of Religious Education award. Unless students already have an earned undergraduate degree award or equivalent credits to meet the prerequisite entrance standards, it is recommended that students utilize the options provided by NCIU.

Students are advised that the Bachelor of Arts (Bible & Theology) and Master of Arts (Bible & Theology) degree programs can be adjusted with appropriate concentration offered. Please discuss this with the Registrar when completing your degree application for further recommendation and advice.

DOCTOR OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

NCI University & Theological Seminary's Doctor of Religious Education (D.R.E.) is designed to offer students a curriculum with a solid foundation in Christian education leadership, research and the study of current trends and issues, while customizing each student's program of study to meet individual professional and personal goals.

The Doctor of Religious Education program promotes academic standards of quality, consistent with excellence in professional practice, and embraces diversity among learners and faculty.

With the option of five concentration areas within the field of education, the program was developed to meet and exceed the development needs of Christian professionals in the areas of Religious Educational Leadership, Higher Education, Christian Social Services, Distance Education and Instructional Technology and Special Education.

This degree program has not been designed as a qualification for public school system professionals, but specifically for Christian schools, Bible colleges and ministry training institutions where there is freedom to teach and adhere to biblical truth and conduct. If you are desirous of completing Florida State teacher certification, please advise the mentor or faculty member when discussing initial learning pathways to facilitate required study units for that purpose.

NCIU'S FOCUS IN CHRISTIAN PASTORAL COUNSELING PROGRAMS

CHRISTIAN PASTORAL COUNSELING

The NCIU Christian Pastoral Counseling programs have been designed in response to many church leaders and workers seeking a non-licensed degree study program.

These distance-education programs offer students the opportunity to study a comprehensive curriculum in a Christian Counseling degree program. The programs incorporate a core of theological and biblical education in addition to a functional understanding of modern psychotherapies. Through this concentration, students will learn the skills needed to succeed in this field.

The Pastoral Counseling programs provide essential study modules for those leaders and others who desire to develop the counseling skills that will enhance their ministry as pastors or non-professional counselors in churches.

As the programs are based on distance-learning modules, all fieldwork and internships are carried out under faculty-appointed proctors, who work in conjunction with NCIU and the students.

CHRISTIAN PASTORAL COUNSELING AWARDS

Master award = B + credit hours
Master of Arts in Christian Pastoral Counseling [B + 56crs]
Doctoral award = M + credit hours
Doctor of Philosophy in Christian Pastoral Counseling [M + 48crs]

OVERVIEW – CHRISTIAN PASTORAL COUNSELING

UNDERGRADUATE STUDY PATHWAY

NCIU does not offer a “stand-alone” Bachelor of Pastoral Counseling award. Unless students already have an earned undergraduate degree award of equivalent credits to meet the prerequisite entrance standards, it is recommended that students utilize the options provided by NCIU.

Students are advised that the Bachelor of Arts (Bible & Theology) degree program provide options for alternative concentration units to meet this specific ministry service focus. Please discuss this with the Registrar when completing your degree application for further recommendation and advice.

MASTER OF ARTS IN CHRISTIAN PASTORAL COUNSELING

The Master of Arts in Christian Pastoral Counseling has been specifically designed to develop the counseling knowledge and skills needed for those who desire to bring healing and hope to hurting people as counselors in churches and other related Kingdom-focused and mercy-ministry oriented organizations.

The purpose of this program is to enhance the calling and ministry capabilities of Christian leaders and pastoral care workers, including those seeking ministry competencies in church counseling, hospital chaplaincy, crisis pregnancy centers, family case management or other areas of Christian compassion.

Many states require professional licensure or Board Certification for those seeking to serve as counselors. This specific program has been designed to prepare you for service and ministry roles that do not require such certification and licensure. If you need to hold licensure in your state, please discuss those requirements with NCIU before committing to this program.

DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY IN CHRISTIAN PASTORAL COUNSELING

The PhD specialization in Christian Pastoral Counseling is distinctive in its integration of the biblical Christian worldview with the science and practice of contemporary behavioral sciences.

The specialization of this degree program aims to provide understanding so that professional religious counselors and pastoral workers can facilitate the needed restoration through a threefold integration of Spiritual and Theological Understandings; Clinical Theories and Practices; and Empirical Research and Methodology.

The PhD research program with specialization in Christian Pastoral Counseling is intended to prepare active believers engaged in Christian ministry service...

- To function as Pastoral Counselors at an advanced level of competency;
- To teach and supervise persons for the pastoral ministry whether in congregations, counseling centers, seminaries or other training programs;
- To increase the understanding of the person, interrelating the theory and technique of the contemporary helping professions with the insights of theology and faith;
- To communicate to the general public, churches and ministerial profession a holistic, interdisciplinary understanding of persons; and
- To take a leadership role within denominations, ministerial organizations and the counseling profession, whether through professional activity, media and publications or teaching.

Many states require professional licensure or Board Certification for those seeking to serve as counselors. This specific program has been designed to prepare you for service and ministry roles that do not require such certification and licensure. If you need to hold licensure in your state, please discuss those requirements with NCIU before committing to this program.

DEGREE PROGRAM MODULAR OUTLINE

In order to achieve the objectives inherent in the design of each degree award subject concentration, NCI University & Theological Seminary require the student to sequentially follow the four or six module pathway as specified:

- Module 1 – Foundational Studies in General Education and/or Biblical knowledge subjects – 25% of total program requirements
- Module 2 – Core Competencies in Concentration – 25% of total program requirements
- Module 3 – Concentration & Nominated Electives (personalization and special focus) 25% of total program requirements
- Module 4 – Ministry Praxis and Dissertation track – 25% of total program requirements

Note 1: Students enrolling with sufficient RPL (Recognized Prior Learning) credit hour units may be granted exemption from the completion of Module 1, or variations thereof. The RPL units must have already been assessed and validated by NCI University & Theological Seminary as being equivalent credit hours units for identical study programs. Alternatively, some flexibility of textual study units can be incorporated into the required module objectives, to achieve the desired target-focus goals for each student.

Note 2: RPL units validated by NCIU are a privilege, not a statutory right. Therefore, students who are admitted as Advanced Standing Status candidates are not eligible to have their RPL units included in any transcript documentation issued by the institution should the student withdraw from the program before completion of all study modules.

The RPL units will only show in academic transcription when the student is graduating after full completion of the program requirements.

2.2 NCIU'S Admission and Course Prerequisites

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The minimum entrance requirement is a general high school diploma (GED) or equivalent award recognition and a basic knowledge of the Bible.

NCIU reserves the right to include general education subjects in the nominated degree program, if the faculty determines that the student would benefit from some remedial assistance.

Students may be required to undertake a general Bible knowledge survey as well as English language and grammar review on admission to the college to assist in their personal development.

All students must demonstrate a broad general knowledge of the world and common subjects such as history, literature, art, social science, geography, etc.

NCIU reserves the right to require the student to complete a General Equivalency Entrance Examination, if the assessment information reveals major learning inadequacy.

There is no maximum age limit or male/female discrimination regarding enrolment.

COURSE PREREQUISITES

All course prerequisites are detailed in each individual degree program outline. As a general rule, however, the applicant should seek to gain the maximum possible RPL credit units through the application process. Therefore, it is imperative when preparing the application for enrolment that the student supplies full documentation and details of prior learning experiences as stipulated.

RECOGNIZED PRIOR LEARNING

NCIU will consider all documented Recognized Prior Learning (RPL) in the application of distance-learning, degree program students that has application or relevancy to the degree program being applied for at NCIU.

RPL Assessment is a recognized process that evaluates the individual's informal and non-institutional learning from all sources and the experiences of life.

This process is to determine the extent to which the individual has achieved measurable learning and competency outcomes or equivalent standards with an NCIU qualification or learning objective.

RPL is frequently used by many higher learning institutions to determine that the applicant has achieved the necessary standards for admittance to a higher level of learning being offered.

Students can only receive Advanced Standing status by submitting all valid prior learning experiences in accordance with NCIU guidelines as detailed in the full application form. This enables NCIU to complete a full assessment for non-institutional learning. These may include...

- Practical Ministry and missions field experience may be considered as equivalent credit hour units for applicants who have completed at least five years of authenticated Christian service as a pastor, missionary, evangelist, social worker, church worker or similar. NCIU makes the determination as to equivalent credit hour allowances for transfer acceptance.
- Equivalency credit hour units cannot exceed 25% of the total credit hour requirements of any degree program as specified in the catalog.
- Contact hours and Continuing Education Units (CEU's) earned at seminars, short-term training modules and non-institutional courses may also be evaluated with supporting documentary evidence.
- Self-directed study programs, non-accredited seminars and mentoring programs for personal development can be included in the evaluation.
- Field internships, directed library research programs, term paper and teaching papers, course manuals and supplementary research activity, published manuscripts and texts, etc., may also be evaluated with correct documentary evidence.

Further credit is available via several methods, including general and customized subject-matter tests, tailored directed study courses, and traditional courses.

CREDIT TRANSFER FROM OTHER INSTITUTIONS

Transfer of Credit

Automatic semester credit hour transfer approvals of the same or similar concentrations and degree programs are extended to the following organizations, institutions and credit granting mechanisms:

- Appropriately chartered, nationally accredited college or university
- US regionally accredited college or university programs and awards
- American Council on Education (ACE) approved courses
- AP test results
- CLEP test results
- DANTES test results

NCIU will accept a maximum of 64 transferable semester credit hour units from community colleges and other 2-year colleges meeting the above specifications and standards, with a maximum limit of 98 transferable semester credit hour units from 4-year colleges and universities.

Articulation Agreements

From time to time, NCIU enters into articulation agreements with other colleges, universities or course providers for either specific course units, or entire programs.

These agreements define the terms under which NCIU will accept another provider's course credit "as if" the course had been completed at NCIU and vice versa.

NCI University & Theological Seminary reserves the right to modify or subordinate its admissions policies as needed to accommodate these articulation agreements, and does so only after careful consideration.

Transfer of NCI University & Theological Seminary Credit

Acceptance of credit for transfer is always at the discretion of the receiving institution. With the exception of articulation agreements in place currently or in future, NCIU makes no guarantee as to the transferability of its credits to any other college or university.

Testing

Learners may complete NCIU degree requirements by successfully taking standardized and customized subject-matter tests when course availability is restricted or denied due to political or other exceptional factors.

Standardized Tests

NCI University & Theological Seminary accepts the credit recommendations for subject-matter tests offered by recognized organizations that are acknowledged as professional experts in test development and evaluation for credit. Examples of such organizations include the College Board, the American Council on Education, and their international counterparts.

Standardized tests for which NCIU accepts credit recommendations include but are not limited to AP, CLEP, Dante's, International Baccalaureate (IB) and others.

An official notification of result from the sanctioning agency is required to receive NCI University & Theological Seminary replacement credit for a standardized test.

Every possible effort is made by NCIU to transfer as many semester credit hour units from other institutions as possible to avoid loss of academic credit hours where applicable.

Credit transfer assesses the initial courses and subjects that the individual is claiming to have completed, whether partial or impartial award programs, and is verifiable by official academic transcript documentation or award authorization.

NCIU seeks to consider three important criteria in evaluating all formalized transfer credit learning:

- The educational quality of the sending institution
- The comparability of credit being transferred
- The appropriateness and applicability of the credits in relation to the programs being offered by NCIU

NCIU reserves the right of sole discretion in assessment to determine what is transferable from other sources for Advanced Standing status.

Florida Statutes allow for the following maximum credit transfer allowances to be granted solely at the discretion of NCIU in their assessment, subject to satisfactory verification and evidence of transcripts, challenge examinations and other relevant documents at all levels.

- Bachelor's Degree – transfer maximum (all sources): 75% limit. The student must earn at least 25% of the Bachelor's degree award by course and/or thesis work with NCIU.
- Master's Degree – transfer maximum (all sources): 50% limit. The candidate must earn at least 50% of the Master's Degree award by course and/or thesis work with NCIU.

- Doctoral Degree – transfer maximum (all sources): 25% limit. The candidate must earn at least 75% of the Doctoral award by course and/or thesis work with NCIU.

CREDIT HOUR SYSTEM

New Covenant International complies with the standard US semester credit hour system mandated by the Florida Statutes and the FCPC as follows:

One semester credit hour equals fifteen (15) classroom contact periods of fifty (50) minutes duration each with supportive study and assignments or, Reading 225 pages of specified text, or,

Any percentage combination of the above methods of study, which equal one semester credit hour. For example: Three (3) semester credits can be earned by any of the following:

- 45 x 50 minute classroom contact periods, or
- Reading 675 pages from specified texts, or
- 30 x 50 minute classroom contact hours and 225 pages of specified reading, or
- Any combination of classroom contact hours, plus reading, plus field or research project, or supervised internship as prescribed which meet the above requirements as agreed by Florida Statutes and FCPC.

NB: At graduate level the classroom contact is the same as the undergraduate level above, but the specified reading increases to 500 pages per semester credit hour.

B	83-80%	3.2 Good
B-	79-76%	3.0 Average
C+	75-72%	2.8 Average
C	71-68%	2.6 Average
C-	67-64%	2.4 Average
D+	63-60%	2.2 Poor
D	59-56%	2.0 Failure

I – Incomplete; P – Pass; F – Failure; T – Subject only audited

Certain courses may be graded on a pass/fail basis (e.g. practical fieldwork, etc.). No GPA (Grade Point Average) value is given for these courses unless stipulated but a “pass” must be earned for credit hours.

An incomplete grade is temporarily given when extreme circumstances prevent completion of a course.

Failure to make up all outstanding assignments within eight weeks will result in an automatic “F.”

GRADUATION POLICY

No student will be granted graduation and conferment privileges until all educational and contractual, financial obligations are satisfied. The student is requested to dialog with their assigned mentor and the faculty for any special requests, or alterations to stated terms and conditions as specified in the Letter of Assessment & Offer. All such variations must be approved in writing and form part of the student’s document history files.

As an institution specializing in distance learning, NCIU holds graduation ceremonies at agreed Florida locations and times. All students unable to attend will be conferred their degree award "in absentia."

NCIU can arrange graduations, by consultation, on the five continents in conjunction with "sister" colleges and cooperating learning centers and this affords opportunity for regionally situated graduation services.

Special arrangements can be made for presentation and conferment ceremonies with appropriate academic wear by request, at the student's cost. Please contact the Administration officer for further details.

STUDENT GRIEVANCE POLICY

NCIU seeks to establish honoring and edifying relationships between students, faculty, employees, and administrators. Should disagreements arise, NCIU will observe the following policy and procedures to resolve the issue in a manner that accords with biblical principles, law, and common decency.

On occasion, a student's complaint is such that it may be resolved informally without the use of the grievance procedure: prayer, love, and reasoning together.

However, if resolution cannot be achieved informally, and a student seeks a formal resolution, the procedure requires the student to confirm the complaint or grievance in writing as a means of seeking resolution.

These complaints are made in writing and filed with the Academic Dean and/or NCIU President.

Full details can be found on the NCIU website.

2.3 NCIU'S Application and Enrollment Process

You simply:

1. Review programs and awards offered in this catalog.
2. Download, fill in and return the Degree Application Form, Research Proposal Form (if you are a doctoral applicant) and Scholarship Application Form (if required in exceptional circumstances).
3. Review the Letter of Assessment & Offer from NCIU and return the signed Acceptance Form plus first payment.

We then:

1. Hook you up with your tutor.
2. Give you access to the Student Login Area.
3. Support you all the way to your graduation.

2.4 NCIU'S FINANCIAL POLICIES AND TUITION COSTS

TUITION COSTS

Application & Assessment – there is no charge for the initial application and assessment processing. However, upon acceptance, the following charges apply and are detailed in the NCIU Letter of Assessment and Offer provided to the student.

Registration (non-refundable)	US$175
Filing & Validation (non-refundable)	US$225
Award Diploma, Letter of Certification and 2 sets of Transcripts (non-refundable)	US$220

CREDIT COSTS – RPL ADVANCED STANDING:

Bachelor (RPL)	US$20 per credit hour
Master (RPL)	US$30 per credit hour
Doctor (RPL)	US$40 per credit hour

[RPL – Recognized Prior Learning for enrolment as Advanced Standing status is by transfer of credits from approved, equivalent learning programs, verified equivalency through non-accreditation programs, independent study programs, vocational training, ministry service and life experience, as assessed by NCIU.]

CREDIT COSTS – COURSE WORK & THESIS/DISSERTATION:

Bachelor	US$200 per credit hour
Master	US$250 per credit hour
Doctor	US$300 per credit hour

[These charges relate only to semester credit hour requirements as specified in the official Letter of Assessment & Offer provided by NCIU.]

All standard tuition costs quoted above do not include the provision of textbooks or any other study material unless stated in the catalog.

SUPPLEMENTARY COSTS & TEXTBOOKS

SUPPLEMENTARY COSTS MAY BE INCURRED, if the student requests special courses or to earn credit hours by special thesis work and/or research project submission, and/or requests textbooks not included in stated costs.

Such additional charges, if required, will be provided to the student in writing in the Letter of Assessment & Offer or may be issued, if there is subsequent change to the initial academic pathway chosen.

TEXTBOOKS

Students are required to purchase textbooks or any other study material through a bookstore of their own choice. Second-hand books or a Kindle edition that can be viewed through a Kindle app are often cheaper options. For some modules, the NCIU website may host free downloadable resources for registered students.

REFUND POLICY

Students who wish to withdraw from the program must do so by requesting withdrawal in writing from the Academic Dean or Administrative Office. The date postmarked on the letter determines the date of cancellation that is accepted. The refund percentage will only be calculated upon the total amount of tuition/credit point fees (both transfer and courses) paid. Registration and enrollment fees are not refundable.

PERCENTAGE RATES FOR REFUND OF TUITION FEES

Note: This only applies to the tuition fee portion not marked as “non refundable.”

End of first week (07 days): 100%

End of second week (14 days): 75%

End of third week (21 days): 50%

End of fourth week & thereafter: No refund given

For any further questions, please contact the Administrative office directly.

PAYMENT OPTIONS

The various available payment options are detailed in the Letter of Assessment & Offer. Graduation cannot take place until all financial obligations are satisfied.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Students who are seeking scholarship financial assistance to pay for their tuition should make this known to the institution when applying for assessment and enrolment. The applicant will be given special forms to complete supporting their scholarship request.

NCIU has placed limitations upon the scholarship funds available, and each student application is viewed on its merit within those stated limits.

Receiving a scholarship is not an automatic right for all applicants, regardless of status. Receiving an NCIU scholarship is a privilege and is subject to the applicant meeting specific criteria.

There are no guaranteed scholarship funds available from NCIU. However, NCIU will assist the applicant as much as possible in procuring sponsorship and will take into consideration exceptional circumstances.

2.5 NCIU'S CONSUMER INFORMATION

SUMMARY OF OUR POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

NCIU makes every effort to comply with federal, state and local laws and regulations. Here is a summary of our policies and procedures relating to a number of issues of concern to students, faculty members and NCIU staff. Full details are to be found in the Student Handbook & Study Guide.

Please note that NCIU policies are subject to change without notice, or as required by statutory obligation.

ALCOHOL AND DRUG ABUSE POLICY

NCI University & Theological Seminary is concerned about the use of alcohol, illegal drugs or controlled substances as they affect faculty, staff and students. Even though NCIU is not a residential campus facility, we see our role as Christian believers to walk wisely in the times we live, and be an example by our faith, our love and our treatment of each other in accordance with Biblical standards of acceptable behavior in society.

DISCLOSURE OF CAMPUS CRIME STATISTICS

NCI University & Theological Seminary provides annual statistics as required to the National Education Centre in disclosure of any student violations concerning campus crime. NCIU encourages and enjoins its students to take seriously the Statement of Conduct befitting a Christian believer as detailed by NCIU in this catalog.

INFORMATION POLICY

The university seeks to protect information collected from prospective students, current students, faculty mentors and staff.

NONDISCRIMINATION POLICY TO STUDENTS

NCIU admits both male and female students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs and activities generally accorded or made available to all other students at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national and ethnic origin in the administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, student sponsorship or financial assistance programs.

STUDENT RECORDS

New Covenant International complies with prudent and reasonable rights, which provide that Learners shall have the right of access to their individual and educational records, and that educational institutions shall not release education records to non-institutional employees without the consent of the learner.

SEXUAL HARRASSMENT POLICY

NCIU is committed to maintaining an academic environment in which all individuals treat each other with dignity and respect and which is free from all forms of intimidation, exploitation and harassment, including sexual harassment. NCIU is prepared to take action to prevent and correct any violations of this policy. Anyone who violates this policy will be subject to discipline, up to and including termination or expulsion.

Full details can be found on the NCIU website.

NOTICE OF CHANGES

This catalog contains the current information regarding the policies of New Covenant International University & Theological Seminary (herein described as NCIU) for admissions, degree requirements, tuition fees, procedures and course offerings.

It is the policy of NCIU to give advanced notice of changes, wherever possible, to permit adjustment. The Directors and administration reserve the right to modify, revoke or add policies or procedures at any time.

This catalog offering covers the academic years of 2020-2025 but may be subject to amendment and alteration at the discretion solely of the institution board of directors and academic faculty. However, all existing educational learning contracts that are in force and current through the student meeting their obligations with the institution will be honored.
